

Phillip Richardson

- Community Governor
- Retired Educator, Logistician, Military Officer
- Lieutenant Colonel, U.S.A.F (retired)
- BSc (International Affairs), MA (Political Science), MBA
- CPL-SOLE (Certified Professional Logistician, International Society of Logistics)
- Graduate Certificate (Integrated Logistics Management)

Phil has 44 years of higher education teaching experience for seven universities and colleges, including The Open University, plus supply teaching at U.S. middle and high school levels. His subjects include business, management, technology, logistics, computing, mathematics, statistics, political science and others. He has published numerous professional, technical and news articles over the years in newspapers, magazines, journals and newsletters.

Phil retired from the U.S. Air Force in 1985 after over 20 years in intelligence, teaching and logistics professions in Asia and Europe. He has lived in England for 30 years with his family. Phil retired from university teaching in 2014 and is currently collaborating with a colleague writing a textbook on Research Methods and Statistics for American university students.

As a Community Governor at Diamond Academy, Phil serves as Link Governor for Pupil Premium, Finance and Pupil Progress.